A year of opportunities

Throughout 2022, Apple Tree expanded our collaborations with local, regional, state, and national organizations who share our mission. It was a year filled with fresh opportunities as well as ongoing challenges. I am especially proud that our team members provided truly compassionate care to tens of thousands of children, adults, and older adults in need. Beyond that, our teams mentored more than 500 students in the health professions, contributed to research, and advocated on behalf of our patients.

Sadly, with more than 9,000 patients on Apple Tree's waiting lists statewide, and ongoing pandemic challenges, the need to increase access to care is enormous. In northwestern Minnesota and in the Twin Cities, we actively collaborated with sister Critical Access Dental providers to coordinate clinic expansion plans. Our Clinical Innovations and Research teams carried out medical-dental collaboration projects, new dental product pilot testing, and created new teledentistry workflows to optimize patient care.

Community support is the essential ingredient that sustains Apple Tree. Please consider helping Apple Tree by becoming a monthly donor, or by sharing the importance of our mission with your friends, family, or colleagues at work. Your support is deeply appreciated.

Many thousand thanks!

Dr. Michael Helgeson, CEO

Dentistry knows no bounds

Apple Tree Dental has five Centers in rural areas, including two in towns with fewer than 3,000 residents.

We also have helped create seven replication programs across the country.

Oral health challenges

2 out of every 10 Minnesota third-graders in public schools have untreated tooth decay. They are 1.3 times more likely to have tooth decay if they live and go to school in rural areas.

34.7% of Minnesota adults ages 18 and older have had at least one natural, permanent tooth removed due to tooth decay or gum disease.

3 out of every 5 Minnesota older adults with fewer than 20 teeth do not own dentures, but need them.

"I have always had bad experiences at dentist offices. But coming to Apple Tree...they were so kind and friendly and understanding. By far the best place to go if you have bad anxiety about going to a dentist."

Meet Caleb

Caleb* is a three-year-old boy who was adopted into a loving family in the Twin Cities. He, along with his adopted siblings, are covered by Medical Assistance - and faced the difficulty of finding a dentist who would accept that insurance. Luckily, Caleb's mother found stories about Apple Tree patients and took him to see the pediatric team at the Mounds View Center.

State insurance helps families, "...but it's so hard to find places willing take it. I find it hard to wrap my head around that," said Caleb's mother. "So it's a blessing to get all [my boys seen at Apple Tree]. And it was so easy for us that they were able to provide the [oral surgery] he needed as well as his cleanings here. It's been great."

Remembering Delilah

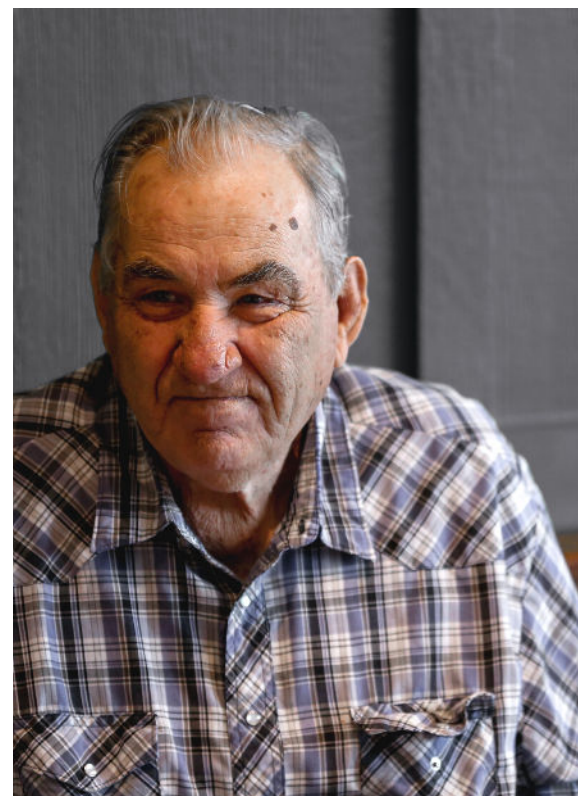

"I reached out [to Apple Tree] in desperation when we moved my mom to Menahga," Delilah's daughter said. "She had advanced dementia and nobody would take her insurance. Apple Tree was very responsive, and when it came time for Mom to not be with us anymore, we designated Apple Tree as a place for Mom's memorials."

Delilah* became one of Apple Tree's patients who was seen by Apple Tree's mobile program hygienists on-site at her care facility, helping prevent infections in her mouth. She passed away at age 94 in early 2023. "I spent many hours a week with her in her final years. Most of the time she didn't know who I was, but she would still smile, and that was okay."

Meet Timothy

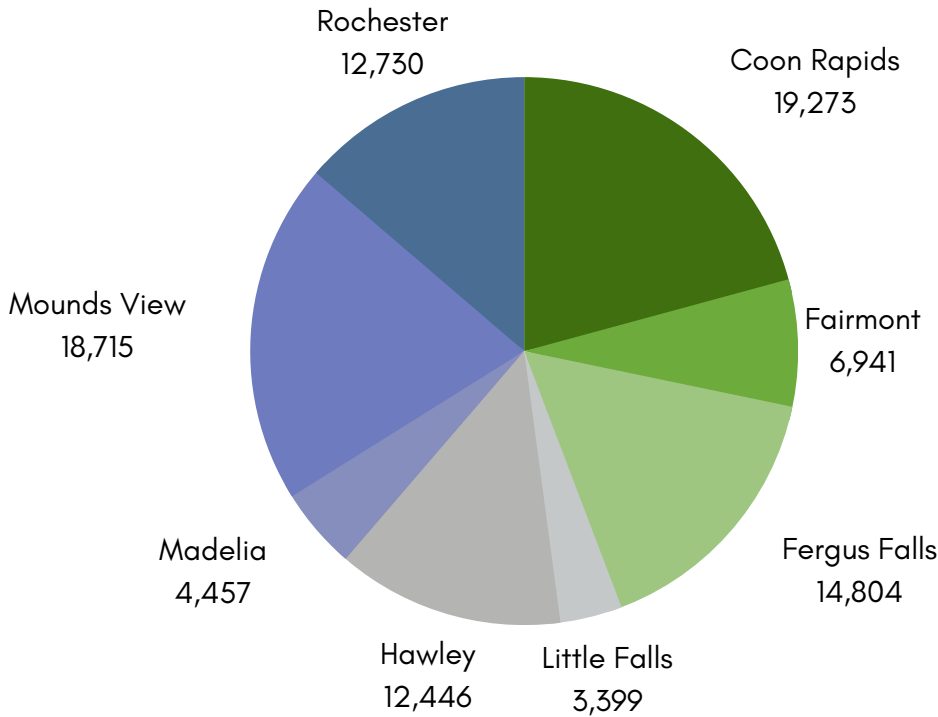

Timothy* is a 75-year-old veteran who could no longer enjoy his favorite foods due to his oral health. "I'm 100% disabled; I hadn't seen a dentist in a long time," he said. "I had six teeth left - they were terrible."

With the help of VA funding and some Apple Tree charity care, Timothy was able to get his painful teeth extracted at the Hawley Center and get dentures. "I feel better now. I can eat steak and everything...I would recommend Apple Tree to anybody."

COVID-19 Crisis

With the generosity of donors and supporters, and with the hard work of staff across Minnesota, Apple Tree Dental provided care throughout the pandemic. No staff were laid off during this crisis, and Apple Tree expanded infection control policies in line with the Board of Dentistry recommendations to ensure the safety of all employees and patients.

Thank you to our supporters for making it possible to continue care during the pandemic.
